Moonlit Garden Big Picture Album Kit

To assemble this album, first begin by scoring the spine hinge piece. Adhere strong glue to either the peak or valley side and adhere together to form the page turns. Fold back the outer flaps to secure a flat surface. With strong adhesive, add to the center of the book spine so you have even spacing on top and bottom.

Next, adhere the pages in number order (page number can faintly be found in the center of the printed page papers). #1 on the front right side, #2 on the back of #1, so on and so forth. Each page should be adhered to the spine in order so that the crease in spine is not covered for easier page turning. Be sure to line front and back pages together.

1. Image one shows a detail of the various pieces used to complete the page sample shown.

2. Image two shows the base album page. The shaded portion represents a patterned paper of your choosing. The measurement indicates the cut size of a patterned paper. Double-sided patterned papers are included in the kit and can be mixed and matched to your liking. Adhere patterned paper in place and then cover the paper seam with the striped washi tape. Some images show additional elements to be adhered in place at this time.

3. Image three is a midway point showing the placement of the various ephemera pieces with the first few bits.

4. Image four is the final page.

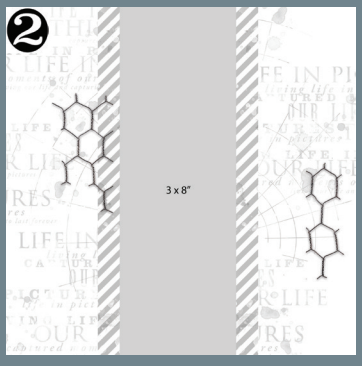

Tip - To easily add photos behind the cluster frames, begin with the top photo. This would be frame which is not covered by the other frames. Trim and glue accordingly. Once glued in place, add the other layers of photos to ensuring proper placement.
